Well Line Trench Inspection:

You may take photographs of the trench for approval through the Building Department. If you chose to do inspections by photo (for this particular type of inspection only), you assume the risk of having to re-open the trench if the inspector is not able to confidently pass the inspection via the photos you provided.

Your photos must contain:

- 1) A tape measure, extended from grade to the bottom of the trench, for the inspector to confirm the trench depth.
- 2) The tracer wire must be visible in the photos.
- 3) A photo that identifies the property.

You will be required to leave the pressure guage. This will be tested upon upcoming rough inspections for the project.

Elbert County will also do these inspections on-site: We cannot wait on-site to perform any inspection. You must have the trench ready to inspect upon the inspector's arrival. If it is not ready, the inspector must carry on with the remainder of his route and a re-inspection fee will be assessed.
